Single Rocket Has Orbited Three Satellites

By HOWARD BENEDICT
CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — The United States has hurled the first atomic battery into space as part of a spectacular sky-high triple play in which one rocket rammed three satellites into orbit. The successful orbiting of the nuclear device in one of the satellite's gives American scientists a significant lead over the Soviet Union in the race to harness atomic power for space exploration.

A Thor-Able-Star rocket blasted off from Cape Canaveral Wednesday containing the three satellites stacked in its nose like a three-scoop ice cream cone.

Both stages of the 50-ton rocket clipped with drill-like precision and flung the entire package into orbit. Almost immediately, spring devices kicked the payloads apart and they continued to circle the globe on separate paths nearly 600 miles above the earth.

Officials reported early today that the atomic battery was functioning and that clear signals were being transmitted by all three packages.

This was the first time the triple payload technique was attempted. It raised to 43 the number of U.S. satellites placed in orbit since the first went aloft 41 months ago. Another Thor-Able-Star pushed two satellites up a year ago.

The 4½ pound nuclear unit was attached to the base of the largest satellite. This is Transit 4-A, 10-pound forerunner of the Navy satellite system designed to provide ships, planes and submarines with accurate, all-weather navigation.

The other satellites were:

A 55-pound sphere nicknamed GREB which carried two detectors to measure X-ray radiation from the sun.

Injure a 40-pound drum-shaped package to measure intense radiation in the Van Allen radiation belts and to report on auroral phenomena such as the northern lights. The instruments were devised by Dr. James Van Allen of the University of Iowa whose graduates say the U. S. satellites discovered the great bands of radiation.

But the starring role went to the grapefruit-sized atomic unit whose hot core contained a small amount of plutonium 238, a radio-isotope which generated heat up to 1,000 degrees Fahrenheit. Thermoelectric rods converted the heat to electrical energy which sent 2.5 watts of power to two of four radio transmitters and some instruments in Transit 4-A.

The United States thus scored a historic feat over the Soviet Union in sending the first nuclear power unit into space. Once perfected, these atomic batteries will provide satellites with unlimited power supply and permit communication with vehicles fired deep into the universe.

Speeches and articles by Soviet scientists report they are pushing development of nuclear units as being necessary for future space exploration.

Money Okay for Nashville Housing

The Public Housing Administration has advised us that it has approved a financial aid contract for the construction of 34 new low rent homes in Nashville, Ark. The estimated total development cost is $40,905, advises J. W. Fulbright, U.S. Senator and Oren Harris, Congressman.

Easier Terms Housing Bill Is Passed

By ALTON BLAKESLEE
By JOE HALL
WASHINGTON (AP) — The $5.5 billion omnibus housing bill has cleared Congress, carrying easier terms for buyers of FHA-insured homes.

A 53-38 Senate vote followed by a 221-175 House tally sent the bill to President Kennedy late Wednesday, giving him another victory on one of his "big five" domestic proposals of the 1961 session.

The housing bill includes $2 billion for urban renewal, by far the largest amount ever voted for the slum clearance and redevelopment projects.

Under the moderate-income family section, a new administration-devised program, homes that cost up to $15,000 can be bought on 35-year mortgages and on up to 40-year mortgages if the buyer's income is too low for the 35-year plan.

The longer the mortgage, the lower the monthly payment. The down payment on a $15,000 home would be $450.

The bill also extends the maximum mortgage term on FHA-insured loans for all family income levels from 30 to 35 years, and raises from $2,500 to $25,000 the mortgage ceiling on one-family homes.

And the bill puts in an easier down-payment schedule under the general FHA program: 3 per cent on the first $15,000, 10 per cent on the next $5,000, and 25 per cent on the remaining $5,000.

Another provision would permit sale of land to developers in urban renewal areas at lower prices so they could build middle-income housing. There have been charges such projects result in homes only for the wealthy and the poor.

Newly Named HD Agent in County

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. — Newly appointed home demonstration agent for Hempstead County is Miss Sondra Sharron, who will assume her new duties at Hope beginning July 1, according to Director C. A. Vines, Agricultural Extension Service, U of A.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Childress, Nashville, Mrs. Sharron recently completed a Masters Degree in Home Economics at the U of A. She has a similar BS degree from Texas Wesleyan College in Fort Worth.

Previously Mrs. Sharron has worked as a HD agent with the Agricultural Extension Service in Texas.

She is the widow of the late John Sharron and is the mother of two daughters, ages five and six.

Director Vines notes, "that Mrs. Sharron has had excellent preparatory training, both scholastic and in work experience, for her position in Hempstead County. Her capabilities have been well demonstrated in the field of home economics. Her services are a distinct asset to the Extension Service which functions as an educational branch of the U of A and the county, state and federal governments."

State Watershed Plan Okayed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Public Works Committee has approved a development project for Muddy Fork of the Illinois River watershed in Washington County, Ark.

Cost was placed at $1,553,755, including $710,508 in federal money.

The project and similar ones are planned to reduce floods by trapping water in the upper reaches of streams by use of small dams and other work.

The Arkansas job will be ready for construction without further congressional action if the Senate Public Works Committee also clears it.

Disarmament Agency Is Proposed

By LEWIS GULICK
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy proposed today the establishment of a permanent U.S. disarmament agency. It would have sweeping powers to draw up disarmament plans, negotiate and handle enforcement if any international arms-control agreement is reached.

Administration aides contend the new U.S. agency—first of its kind in the world—would underscore the importance the United States attaches to the disarmament problem.

Kennedy sent his proposal to Congress in the form of a bill to set up a "United States Disarmament Agency for world peace and security."

The new, autonomous federal bureau would replace the "U.S. Disarmament Administration," which now operates in the State Department under John J. McCloy, Kennedy's special adviser on disarmament.

The basic idea is to create a long-term agency to deal with a long-term cold-war problem: how to check the spiraling arms race.

A White House statement said Kennedy's plan would carry out a 1960 Democratic platform promise. The statement said the bill also included elements of a bill for an arms-control research institute Kennedy proposed as a senator.

The new agency would expand on the disarmament administration that former President Dwight D. Eisenhower set up last October.

Kennedy wants the new agency to be headed by a $22,500-a-year, sub-cabinet-level director, who would be the president's disarmament adviser and would report both to the president and to the secretary of state.

William C. Foster, who has held important disarmament, foreign affairs and defense jobs under the past two administrations and is assisting McCloy now, has been mentioned for the top post. McCloy intends to retire.

Preliminary plans call for stepping up the 80-man disarmament staff to some 200 the first year, raising its budget from $800,000 to $6 or 7 million.

As a starter, the disarmament agency would take on more experts from the State and Defense Departments and other agencies, such as the Atomic Energy Commission.

Legislative Session May Come Aug. 1

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Orval E. Faubus said today that, legislators willing, he probably will call the General Assembly into special session around Aug. 1.

Faubus wants to salvage a state construction program from defeat of his $60 million bond proposal Tuesday and earlier rejection of his companion $14.5 million omnibus expenditures bill by the state Supreme Court.

He hasn't given any indication whether his special session call will cover other matters and if so what they will be.

Faubus said a late July or August date was contingent on agreement of legislative leaders. The session might be put off if they want more time to study the state's fiscal situation.

He announced the tentative date as latest returns from Tuesday's special election showed 139,138 votes against his construction bond proposal and 70,665 for it with 2,004 of 2,201 precincts reported.

Only 10 of the state's 75 counties favored the proposal — Craighead, Conway, Crittenden, Cross, Lawrence, Lee, Madison, Mississippi, Poinsett and Sharp.

Both Faubus and his opponents of the bond program have expressed hope that some sort of construction plan will be worked out at a special session of the legislature to be called late this summer.

Faubus said Wednesday that he planned to confer with key legislators and other persons before calling the legislature into session.

Dr. Silas D. Snow, president of Arkansas State Teachers College at Conway—one of the institutions which would have benefited from the bond program—said he did not believe that the defeat should be interpreted as disapproval of efforts to solve building needs of the state's colleges.

"We know the people of Arkansas are interested in higher education for the young people of the state," he said.

16 Highway Projects Contracted

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Highway Commission Wednesday awarded 16 road and bridge contracts totaling more than $77 million and adopted an operational budget of approximately $22 million for the 1961-62 fiscal year.

The commission also ordered a study for a possible bridge across the White River in the vicinity of Calico Rock and authorized a planning survey for a proposed highway loop around Texarkana.

The $22 million operational budget adopted by the commission is in addition to a previously-programmed $35 million construction budget.

Highway Director F. R. Oliver said the department's finances are in good shape and said the state would be in a position to use all federal aid funds authorized.

The commission has made no indication that it plans to ask Gov. Orval E. Faubus to call a special election to provide any funds to match federal aid; The 1961 legislature authorized Faubus to call such an election vote up to $20 million should the Highway Commission request it.

Largest of the 16 contracts awarded Wednesday went to Foster & Creighton of Nashville, Tenn., which bid $1,993,818 for a Markham Street traffic interchange for Little Rock's new third bridge and expressway.

All bids on a 17th job — a county road project in Desha County — were rejected as being too high.

The commission also put off awarding a contract for the operation of a free ferry across the White River near Calico Rock.

The apparent low bid of $6,295-a-year for five years was submitted by Troy Acheson of Mountain View. Second apparent low was $9,400 annually.

Awarding of the contract was delayed, the commission said, to allow a review of the matter to determine if Acheson could live up to a long-term contract.

No Inflation, Motor Firms Tell Union

By A. F. MAHAN
DETROIT (AP) — Ford Motor Co. expressed concern today about possible government intervention in contract negotiations. At the same time Ford told the United Auto Workers Union that any new wage settlement must be non-inflationary.

As he opened negotiations with Ford UAW President Walter P. Reuther said his union wanted to make it "very clear that the cost of living escalator and the improvement factor clauses in current contracts are essential and basic parts of our agreements with this industry and we don't intend to tamper with them."

Wages rise and fall on the escalator with the government's cost of living index. Seventeen cents of the current average hourly wage of $2.80 rode into paychecks via the escalator. The annual improvement factor gives an automatic yearly wage increase of six cents hourly or 2 per cent, whichever is greater to compensate workers for cost-saving technological advances.

The UAW moved on to Ford today from General Motors, where it opened 1961 bargaining Wednesday for new contracts to replace current three-year pacts expiring August 31. Union bargainers were led by Reuther as they were at General Motors.

Professor Gets $80,000 Grant

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Dr. Kerison Juniper Jr., assistant professor of medicine at the University Medical Center, has received a $80,000 grant to finance a fellowship program for advanced training in gastroenterology.

Dr. James B. Abraham of Lenoire and Dr. Tom J. Smith of Liberal, Okla., will be the first trainees under the program.

The grant came from the National Institute of Health which now has made a total of $300,000 available for training programs at the Medical Center.

Gastroenterology is the field of medicine dealing with the stomach and intestinal tract.

Ex-Gangster Free After 27 Years

JOLIET, Ill. (AP) — Basil (the Owl) Banghart, once a formidable gangster but now a white-haired old man, walked out of Stateville Penitentiary today a free man.

Banghart, 61, stepped out on parole after 27 years behind bars.

He served time for his part in the 1933 kidnaping of John (Jake the Barber) Factor. He and his pal, Roger Touhy, had claimed that the abduction was a hoax.

But today Banghart had little to say.

"The conditions of my parole," he stated, "prohibit me from being involved in any publicity of any kind. I know nothing about my future plans and, if I did, I would not say anything about them."

The warden gave Banghart $25 in state money.

Banghart said he had planned to see his wife, Mae, and his daughter and grandchildren soon.

Father Frederick C. Harrison, the prison chaplain, and Banghart got into a station wagon and set out for St. Leonard's House in Chicago. The house, operated by the Episcopal Church, shelters parolees until their future can be determined.

Banghart's request to live out his life in Port Angeles, Wash., where he has relatives, has been denied by Illinois and Washington officials.

Housewives Victims of Labeling

By JOHN CHADWICK
WASHINGTON (AP) — Packaging and labeling practices that silently presume that the consumer is a glibly moron can end up to prove the advertisers to be the moron, a researcher said today.

He is Ernest Dichter, president of the Institute of Motivational Research, Inc. His remarks were prepared for senators trying to find out if housewives are being bamboozled by packaged goods on supermarket shelves.

Dichter, who makes a specialty of studying the psychological motivations of the consumer, said the consumer's sophistication was developing "with galloping and often unsuspected speed."

"Today, even a 10-year-old knows that testimonials can be bought and that no breakfast cereal will really make him fly like Superman or hit like Mickey Mantle," Dichter said.

Dichter said he believed deceitful and fraudulent activities in the sale of packaged consumer goods "will rapidly become unprofitable."

Less confidence on this point was expressed by two other witnesses called by the Senate Antitrust and Monopoly Subcommittee — Calston E. Warne, president of the Consumers Union, and J. L. Littlefield, chief of the Foods and Standards Division of the Michigan Agriculture Department.

However, Warne saw some hope in what he called "the angry awareness of a growing number of consumers over deceptive packaging."

Littlefield said enforcement officials should join throughout the nation to eliminate deceptive practices. They should be backed up by whatever legislation may be necessary, he said.

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — More than half of Arkansas' 520-mile segment of the interstate highway system has been completed, is now under contract or is in the advanced planning stage, the Highway Department said today.

The announcement came on the fifth anniversary of the huge road building program which will lay a 41,000-mile net of four-lane, controlled access roads over the country.

The Arkansas routes run from Memphis to Little Rock, Little Rock to Texarkana, Little Rock to Fort Smith and Memphis to the Missouri line near Blytheville.

Arkansas has 44 miles of the system open to traffic from Little Rock to south of Benton and from West Memphis to Lake David. The Freeway Bridge at Little Rock is scheduled to open to local traffic next month. Arkansas has 97 miles under construction and 131 miles under advanced planning.

Has Distance Cooled His Love?

By HELEN WORDEN ERSKINE

Dear Helen: My fiance, who is in the Service, has just sent me a picture of himself and two Japanese girls. He asked me not to date any boys while he was overseas, but here he is going out with other girls. We expect to marry next March. Each month he sends me a savings bond so that we may have a start. We planned a church wedding.

Now he writes, "I'm not trying to break our engagement but wedding scare me." Friends warned me not to get myself engaged to a boy in the services unless I married him straight off and went overseas with him. Were they right? Should I break our engagement? - Worried

Dear Worried: A prolonged engagement, particularly when the principals are separated, can deteriorate into an endurance test. Your fiance's fear of weddings and interest in other girls are storm warnings. An offer to release him would clear the air, and put the decision up to him. He will probably love you all the more for giving him the chance. If he doesn't, well—better a small heartache now than a great big one later.

can really decide whether to continue as a wife-in-name-only, or walk out on a marriage which has long since ceased to be one. But—for your own peace of mind and the happiness of your children, it is imperative that you come to a decision. Since your husband continues to love and see the other woman and, since she bore him a child, it would seem that divorce—that court of last resort—is the best answer if your religion permits it.

Dear Helen: I am the wife of a graduate student who has an aversion to staying home with his family. I appreciate the fact that he must study but feel he should at least spend Sunday afternoons with me and our two children.

I am British and my family lives in England. We have no car here and at present are making the best of life in a housing project. What really upsets me is that my husband devotes all his leisure time to sports. He says he needs the relaxation and that spending time with us is no relaxation at all. I need a little myself. I will abide by what you advise. - S.

Dear S.: I know exactly how you feel. Young, just at the age when you should be enjoying life yet stuck in a dreary housing project with two small children and a husband who disregards his responsibilities.

It's all very well to say you shouldn't have married him but you did and somewhere along the way you must have loved each other. Face it. You married an adolescent. Help him to grow up by assuming he is mature enough to cope with life—in his case, domestic duties. Remind him that marriage is a partnership and you, as well as he, are entitled to a few hours of relaxation. Ask for every other Sunday off with or without him and the children. And be certain you take it even if you go by yourself to a museum, concert or movie.

Send your problems to Helen Worden Erskine. Be sure to enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope and address her care of this newspaper. Helpful leaflets are available. Write for "To Marry—or Wait."

Asian to Get Fight Award

NEW YORK (AP)—Pone Kingpetch, the world flyweight champion from Thailand, today was named "Fighter of the Month" for June by Ring Magazine after his successful defense in Tokyo against Mitsunori Seki of Japan. There were no major changes in the top 10 rankings in the heavyweight class although Bob Cleroux of Montreal advanced a peg to No. 9 by stopping Roy Harris and Alex Meteffe, Tom McNeely, unbeaten Arlington, Mass., boxer who is being considered as a September foe for heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson, was listed No. 10.

In the light heavy class, Giulio Rinaldi of Italy, beaten in his title bid by old Archie Moore dropped to No. 3 as Doug Jones of New York moved into the No. 2 spot, behind Harold Johnson, recognized as champ by the National Boxing Association.

Another Monster Ready for Pros

FLINT, Mich. (AP)—Another—perhaps sharper-toothed—monster is ready to test golf's pro vagabonds in the $52,000 Flint Open.

The 72-hole tournament starts Wednesday at Warwick Hills Golf and Country Club, an elongated 7,280-yard layout in suburban Grand Blanc. It's the longest on the pro tour and could provide a tougher test than the original monster did in the U.S. Open at Oakland Hills two weeks ago.

Gene Littler, who won at Oakland Hills in Birmingham, Mich., with a 1-over-par 281, heads a somewhat watered-down field into the fourth annual Flint Open.

Golf's two leading money winners this year are skipping this rich event. South Africa's Gary Player and Arnold Palmer, winner of the Western Open last week, are entered in the British Open and leave for England over the weekend.

Mike Souchak earned the first place $9,000 last year with a 282 - 6 under-par on the par-72 course. It was the lowest total ever in the Flint Open.

Musial Gets Another Trophy

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Stan Musial, the 40-year-old National League nonpareil, went to bat four times Tuesday night against the Milwaukee Braves and got one hit—a long double in the sixth on his 10,000th official at bat.

The game was halted momentarily while Stan was presented with the ball. He fled out on his last trip in the eighth.

The double—the 684th of Musial's career—was the only extra base hit off the Braves' Bob Buhl, who gave up only six safeties in all en route to a 3-0 shut.

Musial, who is hitting .310, is only the fifth player in baseball history with more than 10,000 at bats. The leaders are Ty Cobb (11,429), Honus Wagner (10,427), Tris Speaker (10,208) and Rabbit Maranville (10,078).

Musial said his next target is Wagner's 3,430 total hits. He needs 84 to pass Wagner.

"I could get pretty close to him this season if I keep hitting," Musial said.

Drowns at Augusta

Byne Duren, one-time New York Yankee relief ace, struck out 12 and allowed only three hits while just missing his first complete game in the majors as the Los Angeles Angels defeated the Yankees 5-3 Wednesday night.

The fire-balling right-hander also singled home two runs, with his first hit in three years, ahead of Albie Pearson's wrapup, three-run homer in the sixth inning.

The defeat left the Yankees 12 games behind first place Detroit. The Tigers ended Chicago's winning streak at 12 by beating the White Sox 12-5.

Third-place Cleveland split a two-night pair with Washington, winning 3-2 before the Senators took a 5-2 decision. Baltimore broke a tie with Chicago for fourth place by beating Kansas City 5-1. And Boston defeated Minnesota by a score of 6-2.

In the National League, Cincinnati dropped a doubleheader to the Chicago Cubs 10-5 and 7-2, but came off with a 2½-game lead when Pittsburgh beat the second place Los Angeles Dodgers 9-3. San Francisco and Philadelphia played a 7-7, 15-inning tie called by curfew in the longest (5 hours, 11 minutes) night game in major league history. Milwaukee ripped St. Louis 8-3.

Duren (3-8) allowed only two singles through the first eight innings as he faced the Yankees for the first time since the May 8 trade. Then, pressing and firing, he gave up his fourth walk, to Roger Maris, leading off the ninth, and Mickey Mantle followed with the 24th home run. Jim Donohue mopped up in relief, retiring Yogi Berra, Bill Skowron and Johnny Blanchard in order. Berra singled in the fourth inning for his 2,000th major league hit.

Bob Turley (3-5) was the loser. The Tigers collected 16 hits and handed the White Sox their second defeat in 21 games with a seven-run seventh inning. Don Mossi (9-1) gave up 15 hits, but went all the way for the victory. Ray Herbert (6-7) was the loser.

An error by losing pitcher Joe McClain (5-7) and a sacrifice fly by Mike De La Hoz produced three runs as Cleveland came from behind in the fifth inning of the opener. Jim Perry (7-5) was the winner. Dale Long then homered and paired with Marty Keough for RBI singles in a winning two-run sixth as Washington took the nightcap behind Bennie Daniels (4-4). Jim Grant (7-2) lost his second in a row.

A three-run homer by Earl Robinson capped a clinching four-run second inning for the Orioles at Kansas City and beat Jim Archer (6-2). Wes Coak (3-0) was the winner in relief.

Jackie Jensen's two-run single in the first inning, and solo homers by Gary Geiger and Frank Malzone did it for the Red Sox as Ike Delock (5-3) breezed in with a five-hitter. Camilo Pascual (3-10) was the loser.

Bonus Babies Fine If They Click

By BEN OLAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Baseball bonus payments are worthwhile when players such as Harmon Killebrew, Sandy Koufax, Al Kaline and Dick Groat are on the receiving end.

These four coupled with Mike McCormick, Robin Roberts, Lindy McDaniel, Curt Simmons, Harvey Kuenn and Johnny Antonelli are excellent reasons why major league ball clubs are dishing out king-sized bonuses to untested youngsters.

It's also dollars to doughnuts that many among the score of bonus babies signed this season will end up in the scrap heap—the same one into which have fallen such $50,000-$100,000 failures as Paul Giel, Billy Conzola, Paul Pettit and Billy Joe Davidson.

But it's the success of the Killebrews and the Koufaxes that make it mandatory for the scouts to work full time and the clubs to keep their checkbooks handy.

Killebrew, who got $50,000 to sign with Washington in 1954, found the range with the Senators in 1959, hitting 42 homers to tie for the American League lead. He wallowed 31 last year and this season he's already had 22 homers to go with a sparkling .352 batting average for the Minnesota Twins.

It's taken six years for Koufax to start paying dividends on the $25,000 bonus given him by the Dodgers in 1955. He has a 10-3 record and leads the National League in strikeouts with 117. The fireballing lefty had a total of only 36 victories before this season.

Both Kaline and Groat are hitting well below their lifetime marks this year, but it's certain their clubs are not ready to ask them for refunds. Groat got a reported $75,000 bonus from Pittsburgh in 1952 and Kaline received $55,000 from Detroit in 1953. Kaline, who has a lifetime average of .306, is hitting .286 in 1961.

Groat, the National batting leader last season, has a .272 mark this year. McCormick got $50,000 from the Giants and McDaniel the same amount from the Cardinals. McCormick won 15 games in 1960 and has 7 victories this season. McDaniel, one of the game's top relievers, posted a 12-4 record last year, and is 3-3 in 1961.

The Phils shelled out $65,000 for Simmons in 1947 and $25,000 for Roberts in 1948. Simmons won 115 games for his benefactors before he released him last year. He's now 2-6 with St. Louis. Roberts, who received a bonus of $52,000 in 1949. But he won 20 games twice for the Giants.

Kuenn, who was given a $35,000 bonus by Detroit, batted over .300 in six of his seven seasons with the Tigers. He's now with San Francisco. Southpaw Antonelli was no hall of fire for the Braves for whom he received a bonus of $32,000 in 1949. But he won 20 games twice for the Giants.

Travelers Shut Out Mobile 2-0

By VERNON BUTLER

This hasn't been a very happy season for Little Rock left-hander Bo Belinsky, but the big strikeout artist can't say it hasn't been interesting.

By May 4, Belinsky had a 3-0 record, and the world looked rosy. Seven consecutive losses followed, and he began to wonder if he would ever win another decision. Now he's back on a winning streak, and his record reads 5-7 after last night's brilliant two-hitter against Mobile. The Travelers won 2-0, although they managed only four hits off three Bruin pitchers.

Chattanooga climbed back into a tie with Birmingham for the Southern Association lead by slugging Atlanta 14-5 in an afternoon game. Shreveport whipped the Barons 7-3. Macon downed the Nashville Vols 5-2.

First Round Losers May Take Title

By JOHN GALE

WIMBLEDON, England (AP) — Nancy Richey, 19, eliminated from the Wimbledon tennis championships in her debut, found herself in an almost unprecedented position today—a first-round loser hailed as a possible future champion.

The little atom from San Angelo, Tex., dazzled Tuesday's center court crowd with the spirit and brilliance of her performance.

Miss Richey lost, 3-6, 6-3, 6-4 to another dynamic newcomer from Australia, statuesque Margaret Smith.

Tony Mottram, former British Davis Cup player, classed Miss Richey as a top prospect.

Many observers reckon Nancy would have gone all the way to the final—and possibly a Wimbledon crown—had she not run up against Miss Smith at such an early stage of the tournament.

Now a heavy load falls on Chuck McKinley and Karen Hantze, the main surviving American prospects.

McKinley, from St. Ann, Mo., was among first-round victors Tuesday. He outgunned Italian Davis Cupper, Sergei Tacchini, 6-2, 6-2, 4-6, 6-4. Miss Hantze won Chula Vista, Calif., was never troubled in a 6-2, 6-2 decision over Mexico's Rosa Darmon.

All told 14 American men and 4 women advanced to the second round.

Other top U.S. men to make it were Dennis Ralston of Bakersfield, Calif., who downed Patricio Rodriguez of Chile, 3-6, 6-1, 6-0, 6-3; Jon Douglas of Santa Monica, Calif., who dropped John Hillebrand of Australia, 6-0, 6-4, 3-6, 6-1; Whitney Reed of Alameda, Calif., who whipped Daniel Contet of France, 6-4, 6-2, 6-3; and Chris Crawford of Piedmont, Calif., who polished off Norman Kitowitz of Britain, 6-1, 6-2, 6-3.

Redlegs Drop Pair, Keep 2½ Game Lead

The second place Los Angeles Dodgers, with expected ace Don Drysdale (5-5) still winless against the first division, lost 9-3 at Pittsburgh Wednesday night and picked up only a half-game on Cincinnati in the National League race.

Cincinnati came off with a 2½-game lead although dropping a doubleheader to the Chicago Cubs 16-5 and 7-2.

Third place San Francisco four times blew leads and wound up with a 7-7, 15-inning tie at Philadelphia in the longest night game (5 hours, 11 minutes) in major league history. Milwaukee moved over .500 for the first time since Memorial Day by slugging St. Louis 8-3.

In the American League, Detroit ended Chicago's winning streak at 12 games, beating the White Sox 12-5, and gained a 1½-game lead over New York. The Yankees lost 5-3 at Los Angeles. Cleveland split a two-night pair with Washington, winning 3-2 before dropping the nightcap 5-2. Baltimore defeated Kansas City, 5-4, and Boston defeated Minnesota 6-2.

Southpaw Joe Gibbon (6-3) beat the Dodgers for the third time in three decisions. He struck out seven, walked one and allowed six hits, two of them solo homers by Frank Howard and Daryl Spencer.

The Cubs collected 25 hits, 12 for extra bases including five home runs, while beating Bob Purkey (9-4) and Jim O'Toole (6-7). Ron Santo, after going hitless in 14 trips, dove in seven runs, five with two homers, in the first game behind winning right-hander Glen Hobbie (5-9).

Southpaw rookie Jack Curtis (4-2) then held the Reds to four hits in the nightcap as the Cubs made it seven out of 11 against Cincinnati this season.

The Phils and Giants each got three runs in the 15th (last inning under the 12:50 a.m. curfew rule), with the Phillies getting the tying run on a freak error. Tony Gonzalez, who had singled home one run in the inning, scampered in from third when catcher Hobie Landrith got off a high peg on a routine, return toss to pitcher Mike McCormick.

Milwaukee stayed within one game of fourth place Pittsburgh as the Braves put away their eighth victory in 10 games with a three-game sweep at St. Louis. They scored three unearned runs in the second inning against loser Bob Gibson (5-5), then piled up four runs on homers by Joe Adcock and Frank Thomas in the third and fifth innings. Rookie Bob Hendley, a southpaw, won his first, but needed relief help when the Cards scored their three in the eighth inning.

The trouble was that she was no longer their "Miss Coke"—she was married that morning to Dean O'Farrell. Pictured above, David sits on the hood of the car and refuses to move, while others from his class form a blockade, trying to keep her just a little longer.

Branch Rickey Suffers Attack

SUDBURY, Ont. (AP) — Branch Rickey, father of baseball's farm system and one of the sport's most eloquent spokesmen, was reported resting comfortably today after his second heart attack in three years.

The 79-year-old former general manager at St. Louis, Brooklyn and Pittsburgh suffered a serious heart attack Tuesday at his summer home on an island 95 miles southwest of Sudbury. He had been in Canada at his private fishing island for several weeks.

Rickey, who severed his last connection with baseball when the proposed Continental League disbanded last year, was stricken in 1956 and hospitalized for several weeks.

At the Sudbury hospital, Dr. C. W. Stirling said the patient is "under treatment and his immediate condition is satisfactory." The hospital reported he was "resting comfortably."

Nice Things Happening to Eisenhower

EDITORS NOTE: Arthur Edson, veteran Washington Associated Press political writer, gives his impression of former President Dwight D. Eisenhower since he left office.

By ARTHUR EDSON

HERSHEY, Pa. (AP)—The nice thing about being president is what happens once you get out of office.

A big "welcome home" party was held for Dwight D. Eisenhower Monday night. During it the former president gave glimpses of an Eisenhower no one saw, even suspected, during his eight years in the White House. Who would have thought that Eisenhower, so long hovered over by Secret Service men, would give out autographs so generously that admirers would jam about him until it looked like a junior grade mob scene? Or that he would leap nimbly to his feet and, along with former Vice President Richard M. Nixon, join a male chorus in singing a parody, "Jack the Knife," mildly poking fun at President Kennedy?

Or that he would have Negro waiters line up for him to shake hands in a personal demonstration of how Republicans can win friends and presumably influence voters?

Through it all, Mr. Eisenhower acted as if he were having a ball. This was a money-raising affair. Tickets cost $109.50, with $9.50 going for food and $100 going to the GOP.

At such a price, there were serious moments, of course. Eisenhower took a dim view of Kennedy's legislative plans.

"Now for the school program, I can't describe it, and the farm program that's been offered Congress, it's even more of a monstrous," Eisenhower said. He sized up the new administration thus: "The picture of government, as I see it, is of a gigantic Santa Claus, and we're dancing around the Christmas tree, hoping for our presents. But each package is marked in fine print, so we don't have to read it, 'you don't have to pay for this, but your grandchildren will.'"

But while Eisenhower went about his chores relaxed and folksy, Nixon was businesslike as usual.

Nixon returned to a theme he used when he first broke his self-imposed silence on the Kennedy administration more than a month ago.

Nixon's thesis: that Kennedy has failed in foreign affairs because he has been "talking big and acting little."

"We never had an administration," Nixon said, "that talked more courageously and eloquently and acted more timidly than the one we have today."

This, Nixon insisted, encourages the Soviet Union's Nikita Khrush-

SUSPENSE SETTE

A Short Short Story © 1961 by NEA, Inc.

She ran away to ride the merry-go-round at an amusement park.

By LEE PRIESTLEY

She looked wide eyed and blissful as a child as the dapple gray she rode slowed with the merry-go-round music. When she stepped off Tattle pounced.

"Got you!" he said. "Run away from home, will you?"

The little old lady squeaked like a cornered mouse and tugged at his hands. Then giving up, she stood hopeless and pathetic.

"Oh, come now, Miss Amy. Stop looking like a lamb led to slaughter!"

"Is something wrong?" The calm voice behind them spun Tattle like a top.

"Why, Judge!" Tattle said. "You here?"

The Judge smiled. "I'm often found in strange places. What's the trouble, Miss Amy?"

Tattle answered for her. "She ran away. Actually ran away! To ride the merry-go-round in an amusement park!"

"Aren't you happy at the Home, Miss Amy?" the Judge asked. "I feel responsible, you know, for I sent you there."

"Oh yes, Judge, I'm more comfortable there than I ever was in my life. It isn't that."

"She's ungrateful," Tattle said wrathfully. "Why we make the Home a real Heaven! Leisure, music, ambrosial food—"

"Tattle."

Tattle subsided. The Judge waited calmly.

"You see, Judge, I married young," the old lady said. "Before I'd been anywhere or seen a thing. Then the babies came and you don't have much time or money on a farm. I used to think I couldn't stand it. Even the trees crowded close around so I couldn't see out! John knew how I felt so he began cutting a gap and that's how he got crippled. Well, there's less time and money when your man is tied to a wheel chair, Judge, and all on account of me."

Miss Amy looked unusually downcast and Tattle seemed to feel unhappy. It was his fault that her little excursion had been interrupted.

But after all, he had been doing his duty and no one could really blame him for what he'd done.

"I understand those who are heavy laden," the Judge said. "That's why I thought you should have rest now."

"After John went, I could see that Robbie, my baby, wasn't just right, Judge. He was big and gentle but he couldn't do for himself and it worried him if I wasn't right in his sight every minute. I stayed on the farm all those years until poor Robbie died. I thought I might get to see some of the world then, but there was that train wreck not ten miles away from the home place. I'm not criticizing, Judge, she added hastily.

"I know," The Judge turned to Tattle. "Don't you think in this case, we might make an exception? Give Miss Amy permission to make a few little trips? Possibly turn our heads aside as she goes and comes through the Gate?"

Tattle was stiff with the disapproval he did not voice. "You're the boss."

The Judge looked again toward Miss Amy and smiled at her. "Very well then, Miss Amy, you may resume your sightseeing," said the Judge. "Of course we will expect you back at the Home at last."

"Oh, thank you, Judge, thank you!" The little old lady gathered herself with the scurry of impending departure and looked up into his face that was misted by her grateful tears. "I've been so afraid I would never get to see it, Judge—this wide and wonderful world that You made."

THE FLOWER AND
THE RAIN
By LESTER ARNO

Joe Talenti, age 10, tagged after the couple. There was an urgency in his voice, "Please, Mister. Please buy this beautiful gardenia for the lady. Only a dollar." Joe tugged at the man's arm.

Harry Travers tried to brush Joe off. He was to drink to aim straight. He might have fallen if Mary Thompson hadn't braced him as he listed.

"Come on, Harry. Don't make a federal case out of it. The kid's just trying to make a buck."

"Okay. Okay. Guy comes here for a convention, everybody starts bustlin' him."

Mary's temper flared. "Listen, Mr. Big. If you didn't like the introduction we got at Mitzie's Lounge, don't feel obligated to escort me any further."

Harry and Made up because Harry bought Joe's last gardenia. Three bars later, Mary lost the gardenia and Harry lost Mary.

Jack, the handy man at the Tip-Top Basement Bar, was no lover of flowers. He swept the gardenia out with the cigarette butts and other debris that cluttered the floor after closing hours.

The gardenia wound up near a heap of discarded bottles.

Before dawn next morning Shuffles was making his rounds. Shuffles once had a name. He had forgotten it along with a lot of other unimportant things. Now, the only important thing in his life was to collect enough emblems to pay for a bottle of muscat wine so he could continue to forget the unimportant things like who he once was.

Shuffles was well practiced in his art. He picked up each bottle shook it near his ear, drained the dregs and threw it into his gunny sack. When he had picked up the last bottle, he was about to throw the sack over his shoulder, when something arrested his blood-shot eyes.

He picked up the gardenia, held it in his hands, drew it to his face. Then, as though fearful its scent might bring back some small memory, he placed it in his tattered hat band and swung the bag full of empty bottles over his shoulder.

It had been raining hard for hours.

Patrolmen Rogers and Bayer were cruising slowly down the street in their patrol car.

"Pull over, Jack. Something funny in that doorway."

The car stopped and the police-

Says Boredom Great Sickness

NEW YORK (AP)—A Harvard doctor checking the nation's mental and emotional health today declared: "The great sickness of our age is aimlessness, boredom, and lack of meaning and purpose" in living.

We can be enthralled by the space age, but almost willfully try to avoid "learning how to understand and control ourselves," said Dr. Dana L. Farnsworth, director of Harvard University health services and staff physician at Massachusetts General Hospital, Boston.

"Medicine has made enormous strides in alleviating pain and prolonging life," he said.

Now an expanded task for doctors is to give "meaning to the life," Farnsworth told the American Medical Association's 110th annual meeting.

To endure their troubles, said Farnsworth, people need "feelings of basic confidence in one's self and others, a sense of competence, and a basic faith that the whole human situation is worthwhile."

16 Killed in Venezuela Revolt

The government today placed casualties in Monday's brief revolt by the Barcelona army garrison at 16 killed, 9 wounded.

It was reported earlier that 40 persons died before the 250-man garrison in the port city surrendered under threat of annihilation by forces loyal to President Rómulo Betancourt. The government did not say whether the casualties were among loyal troops or rebels.

Western languages stem from a single parent tongue, Indo-European, but no samples of the original ever have been found.

"A 'wino', Jack. Pretty far gone. Send for the wagon and let them decide whether he ought to go to the hospital or into the tank."

When the wagon arrived, the patrolman decided Shuffles belonged in the tank.

Only the gardenia remained near the doorway where Shuffles had drunk himself into forgetfulness.

It had been one of those summer rains. It stopped as quickly as it had begun.

Now the sun was shining brightly.

Patti was three years old, and she had on her best dress and she was with her Mommy, and they were on the way to the big store. Patti was chattering merrily and then she was suddenly silent.

She stopped. She ran to the doorway. She picked up the gardenia, freshly washed by the rain.

"Lok, Mommy! A pretty flower! God made it, didn't He?"

First Half of Year Only Uncertainty

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—For most Americans the first half of 1961 has been like a daytime TV series. They have gone from uncertainty to uncertainty, each episode ending in a question affecting their jobs, incomes, cost of living.

First it was: What will the new President really do? How long will the recession last? Will taxes be cut or raised? Who can steer us to a miracle stock that will go up and up and up?

Now it is: Can the jobless problem really be licked? Will new machines take over more jobs? Does the recovery mean a new boom's coming? Can our pay rise without bringing another jump in the cost of living? Will the government broaden its control over our private lives?

The year started with industry contracting and unemployment spreading. It brought a new administration to Washington amid considerable confusion as to what could or would be done about the recession's problems.

Some emergency measures brought more cash into the pockets of the unemployed. But Washington is still talking about how to find work for the unskilled, for the young and inexperienced, for the older workers whose skills have been replaced by machines.

Those who were employed went on making about as much—while work weeks of some contracted, wage scales of others rose.

Consumers went on spending about as much—the total outlay rising as the population increased. Spending was more on a hand-to-mouth basis than on more long term commitments.

Talk in Washington about stimulating economic growth led many in the stock market and in business to think a boom, real or artificial, would come along, and in its trail might come inflation. The stock market generated as many questions as it answered. Now the market is a real cliff hanger.

By March people were asking, how soon will the business recovery get going and how fast? By May the optimists were saying the upturn was faster than had been expected.

In June the pessimists are pointing to the slowness of the rise in retail sales, to the hesitancy to take on more installment credit and the rise in savings instead, to the fairly sluggish seasonal increase in home building, to the cautious approach of business to spending for new plants and equipment.

At midyear the cost of living hovers around a record high. Prices of many consumer goods leveled off, held down by competition. The cost of many services continued to creep higher, but for many families this was offset by a downturn in some food prices. At midyear the outlook is clouded by questions.

Fears Worse Strike to Come in Fall

By NORMAN WALKER
Associated Press Labor Writer

PHILADELPHIA, Pa. (AP)—The leader of one of the unions involved said today that a government Taft-Hartley injunction to stop the current maritime strike could lead to a much worse shipping walkout next fall.

Joseph Curran, president of the National Maritime Union, discussed the 11-day strike with fellow members of the AFL-CIO Executive Council at their summer session here.

President Kennedy invoked the Taft-Hartley law's emergency provisions today, setting in motion the machinery to obtain an 80-day court injunction to halt the shipping tieup.

Before Kennedy acted, Curran, whose union is one of six involved in the strike, commented: "Sailors can't be pushed around; we might hit them twice as hard after an injunction expires."

Curran at the same time said that if an injunction is obtained, his union will obey it and go back to work. He said, however, it was only postponing the day when the strike issues must be settled in negotiations with the shipowners.

The NMU leader claimed he had worked out a complete agreement with shipping owners a few days ago but said the owners didn't go through with the agreement.

Curran was accompanied to the AFL-CIO meeting here by another leader of the maritime strike, William Steinberg, president of the American Radio Association. That union represents the striking ship radio operators.

Curran and Steinberg came here to explain the situation to AFL-CIO leaders and seek their support.

Leaders of the AFL-CIO are meeting in an effort to heal internal frictions that threaten to split the merged labor movement.

PEACH QUEEN — BLONDE Brenda Echols, 18-year-old Nashville girl, will reign as Queen Elberta Saturday, July 1st when the Nashville, Arkansas peach producing area celebrates the 1961 harvest. A daylong festival will include a parade, band concerts, contests, speeches and street dances. The major peach producing center attracts truckers and buyers from a wide range, and some 3000 persons work in the area during the two month harvest.

Food Dropped Inside China

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—Chinese Nationalist air force planes dropped 60,000 food parcels over a wide area of Communist China about 10 days ago, the official Central Daily News reported today.

Don't Turn on Red

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Don't make that right turn on red unless you see a sign permitting it. That is the word from the state attorney general's office. State Sen. Knox Nelson asked if right turns on red or stop signals are allowed.

Says Film Capital Is Fading

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Hollywood is dwindling as the world's film capital, says Anatole Litvak, because it has become a rut lit by fading stars and no bright new ideas.

"Slowly, slowly, the American film industry is losing ground abroad, losing prestige, losing audiences, too," he said.

This decline, the famous producer-director insisted, isn't basically the fault of the competition of television or any other economic reason.

"It's because we don't progress—we stick too much to the same formulas we did years ago. We don't dare come up with anything new—either in terms of subjects or methods of approach.

"We stick to the old ways. We depend too much on stars, or spectacular gimmicks such as the wide screen, which provoke the curiosity of people, but only temporarily."

It is the Italians and the French, Litvak said, who now challenge world interest with pictures daring in theme—and often made without stars—which are proving both artistic and box office successes.

"They are willing to take a chance," he remarked. "Sometimes they don't click, but often they do. We must be willing to take a chance too.

"Mechanical tricks are not the answer. We must show more real daring, more real originality."

"Tola," as he is known to his buddies, is renowned for such films as "Be Mine Tonight," "Mayerling," and "This Above All."

He isn't against stars—so long as they can act. His latest film, "Goodbye Again," is built around three stars—Ingrid Bergman, Yves Montand and Anthony Perkins.

But Litvak feels strongly that

AMVETS Elect Ft. Smith Man

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Delaney L. Hinton of North Little Rock was elected commander of the AMVETS Sunday in a convention here. Elmer Morris of Fort Smith was elected first vice commander and his wife was elected president of the auxiliary. Jewell L. Scott of El Dorado was elected second vice commander.

In creating the star system Hollywood like Frankenstein, fashioned a monster that might lead to its own doom.

"In making a motion picture the story is really the most important thing," he insisted. "It may not help my popularity with some people to say this, but it is true. But here you can't get the money to make a film unless you have some kind of protection—such as stars. First you sign a star or, better yet, two stars.

"All doors open if you have the right story for the right star. This is the era of the dominance of the star."

Soldiers Training in Florida Swamps

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—An international group of soldiers of fortune is training in the swamps of Florida for commando-type adventures in Cuba, Miami newspaper report.

The band, led by a 6-foot, 7-inch man called Jerry Patrick, is composed of North and South Americans and Europeans. It is called the Intercontinental Penetration Forces.

In a copyrighted story today, the Miami Herald said it published news of the force only after Sen. George A. Smathers, D-Fla., disclosed its existence on a nationwide radio network. Until then, the newspaper said it felt the story was within a sensitive area of national policy.

The Miami News reported Monday that the anti-Castro group is training without weapons, living off the land and forming small boat teams to make commando raids on Cuban military targets.

Catholic Group Names Officers

FORT SMITH, Ark. (AP)—The Arkansas state Catholic Young Organization elected Urban Shrum of Fort Smith its president Sunday as the group ended its convention. Jane Siebenmorgen of Fort Smith was elected vice president. Helen Zaloudek of Little Rock was elected secretary and Jo Ann Wirtle of North Little Rock was elected treasurer.

May Have to Meet Force

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The national commander of the AMVETS says the U.S. soon may have to meet force with force in Laos, Berlin and Cuba. Harold Russell of Watertown, Mass., told the Arkansas AMVETS convention Saturday night that Berlin is the key to war or peace and if the Soviets move into the city, the U.S. has no choice but to "meet force with greater force."
